Welcome to WordPress. Before getting started, we need some information on the database. You will need to know the following items before proceeding.

1. Database name
2. Database username
3. Database password
4. Database host
5. Table prefix (if you want to run more than one WordPress in a single database)

We're going to use this information to create a `wp-config.php` file. If for any reason this automatic file creation doesn't work, don't worry. All this does is fill in the database information to a configuration file. You may also simply open `wp-config-sample.php` in a text editor, fill in your information, and save it as `wp-config.php`. Need more help? We got it.

In all likelihood, these items were supplied to you by your Web Host. If you don't have this information, then you will need to contact them before you can continue. If you're all ready...

Let's go!

Below you should enter your database connection details. If you're not sure about these, contact your host.

Database Name

The name of the database you want to use with WordPress.

Username

Your database username.

Password

Your database password.

Database Host

You should be able to get this info from your web host, if `localhost` doesn't work.

Table Prefix

If you want to run multiple WordPress installations in a single database, change this.

Submit

A Post With a Few Words and an Image http://localhost:8888/backtracking.JPG

Tomorrow, or later, maybe, we might do some mathematics and equation solving via backtracking ...

Hope to see you then.
